I am writing with reference to our telephone conversation of the other day and your letter dated 22 March which I have just received.

In attempting to look into the possibilities, it would be very helpful if you could furnish us with some personal background data on the attached form. This is an abbreviated personnel form which we sometimes use for preliminary exploration purposes. I hesitate to ask you to fill out the regular personal history form since it is several pages long and would be a needless nuisance for you at this time. However, if you could execute the attached in duplicate and return it to me, I will be in a much better position to look into the various possibilities here.

Sincerely,

Assistant to the Director

I want to thank you for your courtesy on the phone, and explain in a little more detail my reason for calling you.

I have long been eager to be of assistance if possible. Until recently I had to remain in New York because of illness of a friend, but this situation has been altered by death, and I am now free to do as I wish. I am a native New
